The True Story

Woodrow Wilson

By David Lawrence-(Copyright 1921 by the George II. Dornin Company in the United States, Canada, South America, World publication, rights reserved by Current News. Features, Incorporated.)

W OODROW WILSON died as he lived—unexplained and unrevealed. None—not even his intimates—ever knew the mental processes which crystallized his decisions on policy or converted friendships of a life-time into the coldness of utter detachment. Those who held office under him lived in fear of his disfavor—they repressed their criticisms. Those with whom he byoke were involuntarily prejudiced against him—they exaggerated his defects and minimized his virtues.

Stern and impassive yet emotional, caim and patient yet quick tempered and impuisive, forgetful of those who had served him yet devoted to many who had rendered but minor service, unforgiving and fierce in his contempt for some who had dured to disagree with him yet generous with/others even to the extent of appointing them to high office, precise and business-like and yet upon occasion illogical without more reason than intuition itself, seclusive yet a crudisagree with him yet generous with others even to the extent of appointing them to high office, precise and business-like and yet upon occasion illogical without more reason than intuition itself, seclusive yet a crussader for the larger purposes of democracy—thus might his characteristic contradictions be incoherentity grouped in a series of paradoxes.

And even these are not all the attributes of the strange personality of Woodrow Wilson. The author lower Woodrow Wilson for eighteen years, and fall of his eventful career, felt the throb of his efforts for a better humanity, watched the inconsistencies of policy develop, perceived the boldness by which almost alone he embarked on major programs, and often took note of the eccentricities of a personality perplexing to all bat those who blindly accepted its leadership.

This chronicle and analysis of the man whose words during the World war were breadcast to the four corners of the carth, as had happened to no other American in history, is not intended to give aid and comfort either to those who saw in Woodrow Wison an empirical opportunist of boundless ambition, arbitrary and tyrannical in the exercise of his power or those who with partisan zeal placed the stamp of unqualified approval on his acts personal and politicantinued on page 6)

DISCUSS NEW TAX PROPOSAL*UPON FLOOR*

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Washington — Revision of the estate tax rates proposed by Representative Ramseyer, republican, Iowa, subjected the revenue bill to another delay today while the house launched into debate.

Mr. Itamsoyer's amendment proposed to rulso the rates all along the line to a maximum of 40 per cent on the amount by which a met estate exceeds $10,000,000. The present rate is 25 per cent.

The same brackets of amounts as in the present law would be retained and the minimum rate of 1 per cent on the amount of an estate not in excess of $50,000 also would be undisturbed.

Representative Strong, republican, Kansas, announced he would offer an amendment to propose an addi-tional tax on the tax free securities

FIVE YEAR LIMIT ON DISABILITY CLAIMS

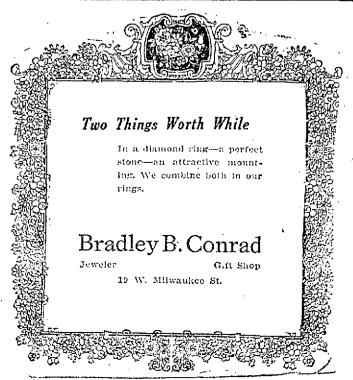

Since most of the men who served in the World war were discharged in 1919, the local chapter of the Red Cross calls attention to the fact that claims for disability must be filed within five years after dis-charge, which means that 1924 is the last year that the majority of ex-service men can legally file

While appeals are allowed in extreme cases, when claims have not been filed, in most cases compensa-tion will not be pald unless the application is placed before the time limit expires. The Red Cross is co-operating with the Veterans' Eu-reau in trying to reach men entitled to compensation.

Anyone who has a disability resulting from service in the World war, not properly settled, should take action at once, it is announced,

George Porter, motorcycle patrolman on the police department here for nearly two years, utnil his release from service, Nov. 15, 1922, has been reappointed to the department to succeed Patrolman Robert Cawston who has resigned, effective March 1, it was stated by the city manager, Monday.

Since leaving the city's employment, Mr. Porter has been working at the Parker Pen company.
It is expected Porter will be assigned to night duty with one of the police cars, and that one of the police cars, and that one of the patrolmen new on this duty will succeed Cawston on the Academy street beat. Porter probably will resturn to work for the city the latter part of this week. He was declared to be the best of several applicants for Cawston's post.

The Bootleggers Unions and the conspirator prohibition lang are much disturbed looking to Al Smith as the white hope of the organization for the democratic nomination for the presidency. Now he has aligned himself with the law officers, they must be a little doubtful as well as disturbed over the new attitude. For a year Smith has been the one best bet of the organized wet interests. What they have expected to gain by his nomination or election is hard to understand more than that such a finality would be received as an expression from the people as concrete opposition to the prohibition laws-a mandate as it were against the 18th amendment. Now the New York governor has gone and spilled the beans and there are corrugations on the brows of the bootleg backers.

THE LOST MISSION

Washington,—From boyhood to old age, men always have been susceptible to the lure of buried treasure. Various explanations have been given for this phenomenon. Evolutionists have idvanced the theory that the instinct is a survival of the ages when man was little more than beast. Dogs instinctively bury bones and instinctively go about seeking for hoards which may lie just below the surface of the ground. It belief that good things lie buried prompts the treasure. Probably a sounder theory is that evinstinctively is on the lookout for sudden wealth. It he can find a lost or forgotien or anclaimed hoard, he will realize this dream. Whatever the explanation, it is true that one buried treasure and it is equally true that a man never grows so old that he does not experience a thril at the report of a discovery and an urge to go forth and seek at hearing a tale of hidden wealth. Indeed, several rich men have made a hobby of running down traces and ru-mors of buried treasure. Some adventurers, not so rich, have given up thaw but reasonably sure ways to fortune in order to dash off after the ignls fatuus of some old wife's tale of a forgotten

One of the most fascinating of such treasure has had practically no publicity and there has been but little search for it. It is presumed to lle in the almost forgotten peninsula of Lower California. A few patient scarchers have spent many months seeking it, but no one has yet dis covered its whereabouts. About seventy-five years ago the government of Mexico passed what was known as the Secularichain of missions which stretched along Et Camino Real from the southern to the northern end of the 750-mile long peninsula. Before passage of the act, practically all of the civil functions as well as the ecclesisatical were in the hands of the priests who were in charge of the missions. It was considered wise to divorce church and state, so the governmental affairs were taken out of the hands of the priests. This act had the effect of discouraging development in Lower Calfornia because the priests did not desire to build up communities they could not control. They immediately suspended their activities and scores of them left the peninsula.

Not long prior to the passage of the Seculari ation Act, a new mission had been started. was designed to be one of the most splendid of the Lower California edifices. Work on it had propressed to such a point that parts of the buildings were used to store possessions of the church. The padres, not wishing to invite the attention of rebbers or even of the curious, before the mis sion had been completed and a garrison moved for its protection, had been secretive about its location. Most of the work was done by priests, novices and by Indian converts who were under the complete domination of the priests. was that few people knew in what fastness of the mountains the new mission was

A curlous thing resulted. When the priests abandoned their work because of the act, work on the new mission was suspended and the padres joined the general exodus. Some went to Mexico. even been said that the walls already built were forn down, although this has been denied. At any rate, no one paid any attention to the misulated interest in it anew, it could not be found. The priests who worked on it had all gone. The Indian workers were either dead, gone away, or unwilling to reveal the location of the edifice. all is known among a few people of the Californias as The Lost Mission.

The incident which renewed interest in the mission was the report that the priests had taken, there chests of gold and sliver, reals, pieces of eight, jewels and other such wealth. To decorate the chapel of the new mission, they had sent -old musicrs-and beautiful tapestries. These the backs of mules or patient Indians to the seup within stone wails until the chapel should tar ornaments of great price and holy relics of

They never The Secularization Act remains in force and but a handful of people, mostly Indians, now cleft or spur of the San Pedro Martir Range there is a tumble of masonry and so somewhere within the walls, tradition has it, is a scaled chamber containing wealth which today may be worth millions. One might well ask why some of the priests did not go back and bring out the treasure but the answer is that the treasure had been conse crated for use in this particular mission and would not be employed for any other work. Always, it was expected the work would be resumed. Time hides many things in a wilderness. Perhaps some attempts have been made by some of the priests and have been defeated. One reason why so few buried treasures are discovered even though the seeker has definite information of the original burial and the loca tion, is that unquestionably the person who bur fed the treasure or some one to whom he has communicated his secret, recovers it.

There are several stories of buried treasure connected with various locations near Washington. In the war of 1812 when the British captured Washington and burned its public buildings, people who lived in the city and, especially those iving in the surrounding country, fearing that the redecats would rob them or destroy their wealth, buried their most valuable possesions. is said that nearly every rich planter along the road which runs from Benedict, Maryland, where the British landed, to Washington, buried his gold and his plate. This seems reasonable. In fact, it was the wise thing to do for when the British came, they burned many houses and looted many others. Some of the owners fell in the which will case and stabilize the whole financial fabric of Europe. A solution of this problem gold and his plate. This seems reasonable. In credible to suppose that they did not dig up their treasures after the British left.

The unromantic and therefore un-welcome truth is that a lemon or two every morning or the juice thereof will probably increase the weight by precisely a fraction of the weight of the lemon or the juice. Some very credulous fat folk seri-ously believe that by cating bread which bears a medical title or brand they can reduce, but the unpopular truth again is that any reduction of weight actually obtained while "diet-ing" on such bread is due solely to the general dietary restrictions, the gen-eral reduction in the intake of food and any exercise adhered to while ind any exercise adhered to while he "treatment" is being used. and any exercise admered to write the "treatment" is being used.

I do not mean to convey the idea that all foods have the same nutritive value or that one will grow fat or lean regardless of what foods one eats. and to others the harassed prophet of a new day.

Turning points there were in the career of Woodrow Wilson, separated, indeed, by intervals of besetting circumstance but climaxes nevertheless which marked assuredly his progress from the cloistered atmosphere of the college to the forefront of the world itself in the greatest crisis of modern times. They were like acts in a drama with a touch of comedy here and there, a triumphant rise over enemies who wished him lots took on the fervor of a crusade. The college professor who had become in his day the most noted authority on the doctrines of constitutional government had the unexampled opportunity to put his theory into actual practice.

Again and again Woodrow Wilson, sure-footed, confident, self-reliant, so far as the outside world was concerned, seemed on the verge of a great blunder only to be saved there. Don't Spoil Your Child's Hair By Washing It

When you wash children's hair be careful what you use. Many soaps careful what you use. Many scaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the half brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified cocount oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It is inexpensive and beats anything else all to pieces.

inexpensive and beats anything else all to pieces.

Two or three tenspoonfuls is all that is required. Simply moisien the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out ensily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fuffy, wavy and easy to manage. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, iller and dandruff, You can get Mulsified eccount oil shampoo at any drug store, and a few ounces will last for months, ——Advertisement.

I hardly think a woman on the verge of confinement would be of much use to a hospital. Make inquiries though, quirles though.

Now about the expense. Most hospitals have wards where the charges range from $8 or $10 a week up, which includes the services of the floor nurse. When you have a private nurse the charges for her would be at least $15 a week, and the room extra, probably $10 or $15 more for that. If you bring a nurse in from the outside, that is, a graduate nurse, you pay her salary and board and so much per week for the room.

Sometimes he is intoxicated and sometimes he isn't. He never given me money except five deliars a week. That isn't enough for nine people to cat on and get dressed on too, is it? He also likes another lady and gives her attention in my company. Shall I' get a divorce or run away? How could we divide the children. Should I have all of them? MRS. Z. You are too good to your husband. When your menls are ready serve he wants to when he returns and them, and let him scold and storm it finds he is too late for dinner. He may learn to arrive on time when he expects to cat. I would not advise you to get him something to cat when he does come in unless he has a good excuse for staying away. We course such treatment will necessitate a lot of courage on your part, and an indifference to the scolding which will follow. Since your husband falls to support you and the children and comen home intoxicated, you could probably get a divorce easily. If the court gave you custody of the children he would have to contribute to pany for a year and she doesn't go with anyone else. She stays in a ho-tel and the lady is her guardian. Do you think that is why she acted that court gave you custody of the children he would have to contribute to their support. I would advise you to hey if you feet that a divorce is what you want. You would gain little by running away and would lose your peace of mind thinking that you had descried your children.

The fellow you see dashing madly towards the station, with shirts and collars flapping from his half-closed suitcase, did not pay enough attention to the railroad A-B-C

And the chap you see rushing around like a hen with its head off, wondering where to find a job, has not paid enough attention to the A-B-C Classified Section,

People who do, not have the common sense to consult pathfinders generally miss the Opportunity trains,

The A-B-C Classified Section is the job-hunter's Pathfinder. It lists the different trains and the different routes to Success. They are all there-alphabetically indexed and numerically classified.

If you are looking for a good position and read this section regularly, you will soon catch an offer which will be like catching an express train—that is, an offer made expressly for youl

Frankly Answer 20 Questions Motorists Are Asking About

BALLOON GUM-DIPPED CORDS

Much confusion and misrepresentation has been caused by manufacturers offering oversized cord tires announced as "Balloons" or "Balloon-type" which are in reality, semi-balloons.

The true Balloon was pioneered and perfected by Firestone. We, the Firestone Service Dealers of this territory, after talking with hundreds of interested motor-

1 What is a real Balloon Tire?

The true Balloon is a super-size Gum-Dipped Cord that is specially designed and constructed. It has twice the air capacity and operates successfully with only half the pressure of regular tires. We believe it to be the most important contribution to motoring comfort, safety and economy since the invention of the pneumatic tire.

2 How does it differ from the interchangeable, or "Semi-Balloon?"

The so-called "Balloons" that are interchangeable with present wheel and rim equipment are merely 10% to 20% oversize cord tires, with fewer plies. They are little, if any, better than your present regular cords. The true balloon has double the air capacity of the regular tire it replaces, has its thinner side wall made extra strong and is mounted on a smaller diameter wheel, so that the gear ratio of the car is unchanged, and the proper fender clearance is provided.

3 Can a real Balloon Tire be applied to present wheels?

NO. To absorb shocks perfectly and to give you the maximum safety in car protection, a genuine Balloon must be far larger and the difference in the size of the tire must be offset by the smaller

4 Why are the smaller wheels necessary?

Firestone Balloon Gum-Dipped Cords do not change the present operation of your car. For instance, a 7.30 balloon gum-dipped cord replaces a 33x5 standard size tire. It is mounted on a wheel 20 inches in diameter. This makes the outside diameter actually no greater than the standard tire it replaces. We have special service wheels built by Firestone, with spokes offset three-quarters of an inch. This readily takes care of fender and body clearances. And it is a fact that you cannot replace a regular 33x5 tire with a semiballoon without wheel changes.

5 Who was responsible for the real Balloon Tire?

Firestone made the low air pressure idea practical and developed the Balloon Gum-Dipped Cord to its present point of utility.

6 What made the real Balloon Tire prac-

GUM DIPPING. Low pressure tires require thin side walls that flex easily as road shocks are encountered. Firstone found the way to combine extreme flexibility with toughness and strength. The Firestone gum-dipping process impregnates each cord with special rubber compound.

7 Has the real Balloon Tire been Tested?

YES. Before announcing Balloon Gum-Dipped Cords to the public, Firestone submitted them to more than two million miles of test driving, and millions of additional miles of actual service have strongly emphasized their wonderful advantages.

² Do Automobile Manufacturers offer real Balloons as original equipment?

YES. Sixteen leading car manufacturers today offer Balloon Gum-Dipped Cords as original or optional equipment. They put Balloon Gum-Dipped Cords to their own tests before offering them to 9 Do Automobile Manufacturers offer Semi-Balloons as original equipment?

NO. No automobile manufacturer uses Semi-Balloon tires, either as original or optional equipment. To our knowledge, no reputable tire manufacturer advocates the use of Scmi-Balloon Tires as original equipment. Members of the Society of Automotive Engineers have endorsed the small diameter wheel for balloon equipment. They have not sanctioned the half-way measure—the "Semi-Balists have prepared the following answers to twenty question, so that you may be fully acquainted with the situation, and authentically informed about the construction features and advantages of the genuine Balloon Tires.

You, no doubt, have either asked these same questions -or, at least have had them in your mind. Now-you have them frankly and truthfully answered.

10 Do Real Balloons make riding more 15 Do they make steering harder? comfortable?

They do what tires from the first were intended to do-cushion the car on air. Bumps, holes, and irregularities are completely absorbed. making even the worst road smooth to travel. If you have never ridden on real Balloon tires, you cannot conceive the luxurious riding comfort, the wonderful feeling of safty and complete relaxation they make possible.

11 Are True Balloon Cords safer?

YES. Balloon Gum-Dipped Cords virtually eliminate skidding, and give you both wheel and braking centrol of your car, never before experienced. Their broad, flexible treads have twice the contact area with the road. Multiplied crosses, squares and deep grooves cling to slippery surfaces and increase the traction.

12 Do they add to the life of your car?

hubs. Wear and tear on the motor, gears and bearings, from the pounding of the road, is reduced. Crystallization of chassis parts is slowed down and body squeaks and rattles are minimized.

13 Do Genuine Balloons cut down power or increase fuel consumption?

NO. Balloon Gum-Dipped Cords do not change the gear ratio of your car-do not increase gasoline consumption-do not decrease tire mileagedo not decrease acceleration-do not affect the cars' hill climbing ability.

14 What happens when a real Balloon Tire punctures?

NOTHING. A prominent car manufacturer testing Balloon Gum-Dipped Cords drove his car at 60 miles an hour over nails. When punctured, the air came out so slowly that the car traveled a mile before the tires were deflated.

NO. Steering is actually easier when car is in motion. When maneuvering into a cramped parking space more of an effort is required at the wheel. Due to Firestone's unusual method of balancing tube and carcass, with proper relation to valve, splice, bead and other parts, vibration in steering mechanism is practically nil.

16 Do real Balloons raise the car higher. off the ground?

NO. The true Balloon Gum-Dipped Cords require wheels of smaller diameter that do not elevate the car. This is essential. Larger wheels couldned with Semi-Balloons destroy the center of balance and make the car top-heavy.

17 How am I to know a real Balloon Tire? By its greater size, its thin side wall, its distinctive tread of grooves and crosses and squares, the name Firestone on the side wall and the Mark of

Are real Balloon tires made for all cars?

YES. The genuine Balloon Gum-Dipped Cord can be had in sizes for all cars. For instance, a 7.30 Balloon Gum-Dipped Cord replaces a 33x5 standard size Firestone, and a 4.40 Balloon replaces a 30x31/2-inch tire, used by light car owners. We have the wheels and rims built by Firstone which make Balloons applicable to all makes and models.

19 Who will make the change-over to real Balloons for me?

Firestone Service Dealers and most Car Agents. We are prepared to supply you with Balloon Gum-Dipped Cords in your size. And to furnish the proper wheels and rims and to make the change-

20 Are real Balloon tires standardized? Automotive authorities have approved the Balloon Tire as applied to 20 and 21-inch wheels in the sizes offered by Firestone-4.40 and 5.25 on the 21-inch wheel, 6.20 and 7.30 on the 20-inch wheel.

Smart New Silk and Wool Dresses

The volume buying of the J. C. Penney Company for its 475 Stores explains our ability to offer you such remarkably good Dresses as these at such low prices. These new Dresses have arrived just at the time when you probably need another one to finish the Winter scason. And they are newly styled for Spring wear!

These Dresses are made of the newest silk and wool materials, in assorted colors, plain and novelties. The trimmings are unusual and colorful. You will be delighted with the excellence of the materials and the new-ness of the styles. Sizes for women and misses, in two groups, at two low prices.
